Self Reported Credits

ISCD accepts credits earned through peer organizations and related courses. These credits must pertain directly to Musculoskeletal Health and Bone Densitometry, and they must be obtained within the current certification period. Credits accepted will be Category A (CE) and/or AMA PRA Category 1 (CME) credits for both Certified Bone Densitometry Technologists and Clinicians.

To self-report credits you must upload the course certificate with the name of the credit source, course name, attendee name, date of the course and type of credits. For credits earned at a conference, a program/agenda should be uploaded with the certificate.

- Click browse

Attach certificate (or appropriate file for publications, books, or articles you have written)

- A new window will pop up allowing you to browse the files on your computer, and select the file you want to upload. In this case, the file is saved in a location called “Example Folder”, but your file may be saved in a different location. Select the correct file and click Open.

- You will now see the name of your file in bold black, and the “Browse” button will be changed to “Remove.” If you find you have attached the wrong file, you can click remove to clear out the file and click the “browse” button again.

- Now you can click the “Submit” button.

- You will now be back on the Self Reported Credits landing page, and should see your Self-Reported Credit listed, along with a Status Saying “Verifying Info”. Once the Certification team has had a chance to review your submission, the status will change to Indicate if your credits have been accepted, denied, or if more information is needed.
